EDITORIAL FROM THE METROPOLIS DIRECTOR...

When do we have Church School Classes? How long are they to be?

The answers for these two questions have not changed in over 20 years. They are also answers that are not acceptable to some parents, and therefore some parishes!

The answers were reiterated by Dr. Anton Vrame, the Archdiocese Religious Education Director, at the 2010 Clergy-Laity Plenary Session and in his published Report.

✧ Children [are to] attend as much of the Sunday Divine Liturgy as possible, at least through Holy Communion.

✧ Every Parish [is to] set aside between 45 minutes to one hour, per week for Sunday Church School.

Thus, regardless of what time the children get to their classes, they are to have 45-60 minutes of class time with their teachers!

The Metropolitans and Bishops agree. One of their main tasks is teaching the Faithful. They want our young people to stay in the Orthodox Church because the young people want to do so. The youth are more apt to do so if worship and education have been a priority in their family.

Parents are the first line of education when it comes to teaching the faith because the faith is lived out in the home.

Here is a scary thought. When Parents demote the value of worship and religious education, does this mean their children could do so as well?! Doing nothing is really doing something big in the negative direction!

What is our PRIORITY assuming we want our pews filled with our children?

What is not important, correct thinking or our choice?

Sunday morning sports –Do we really think our children will be professional sports stars? Even then, will Sunday sports help them in their spiritual development?

Sleeping in... unless as a parent you are not concerned about where you will be for eternity.

Permitting our children to decide for themselves... Ah, we promised Christ at their baptism to rear them in the Orthodox Church. As Orthodox parents, we do have an obligation to God, but it should really be seen as a joy. We are to do all we can to nurture our children in the Orthodox faith.

Our Lord is loving, patient and kind. What is our response?

LEARNING OBJECTIVE FOR TEXTBOOKS GRADES 1-5 & Middle/Jr and Sr High

“What Your Child Should Know... after X Grade” was a project of our Department of Religious Education that has expanded and now refers to as Learning Objectives: “Living Our Orthodox Faith” Elementary School Textbook Series - What Your Child Should Know. Stephania Gianulis prepared this document, with additional material by Anton C. Vrame, PhD.

In 2000 Annunciation Church in Akron, OH worked on Learning Objectives and Tasks in an attempt to identify what students are to be taught, what topics may be missing and how to help teachers use the textbooks more effectively. To that end, the Prayers, Hymns, Songs, bible Stories, Memory Verses, Saints, Sacraments, Services and Vocabulary of each textbook were listed for each book and then cross-referenced by topic. In addition, the development in five categories was noted.

That work has been added to Learning Objectives: “Living Our Orthodox Faith” Elementary School Textbook Series - What Your Child Should Know to offer a type of check sheet of information in each textbook.

In addition, if a parish wants to show the parents the areas their children have studied and missed, Progress Reports were developed using the check sheet information. Then the responsibility falls on them to fill in the gaps.

Included in this Newsletter is the combined Learning Objectives of the DRE, the check sheet information, Progress Reports and an Attendance Sheet for this school year.

Consider sharing the portion developed by the DRE with the parents in the beginning of the year. This is a concrete means of showing parents what will be taught in their children’s classroom. When they miss a class, the children miss a lesson that builds on the previous lesson; and each year builds on the previous year.

One value of the Progress Reports is to point out what lessons or topics were missed when their children were absent. It is up to the parent to make up the lesson.

Learning Objectives: Middle School / Junior High and High School Textbooks (in progress) - What Your Child Should Know was recently added. Stephania Gianulis and Aimee Cox Ehrs prepared this second major task, with additional material by Anton C. Vrame, PhD. This, too, is included in this Packet.

FOR PARENTS: At each seminar, I suggest distributing the words to the prayers, hymns, memory verses, etc. to the parents so they can be part of their children’s education.

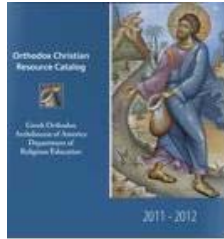

PARISH TEACHERS LISTS

- ☑ If your parish did not submit a list of Church School Teachers and the requested information, please do as soon as you can.
- ☑ If your parish did submit a list, I will send your list to review and update.
- ☑ Dr. Vrame’s goal is to be able to contact Teachers directly, as do I. He emails articles throughout the school year.

LET US LIVE ORTHODOXY, Vol. 1 by Georget Photos

Using crafts, recipes and projects, the first volume of Let Us Live Orthodoxy helps youth directors, religious educators, and clergy illuminate youth groups, retreats and classrooms with the joy of the Christmas season. The 10 activities in this book include making incense, baking Christopsomo, and exploring the symbolism of Theophany, in addition to unique extensions of favorite activities.

But this is not a mere craft book: Let Us Live Orthodoxy is a hands-on approach that leads young people to understand and respect the traditions of the Church, enabling them to actively include these traditions in their lives. These sessions include discussions to prompt questions that might otherwise lie dormant.

PRAXIS magazine archives for 1999-2010 are online.

THE HOLY LAND POSTER PROJECT

by Carole Buleza, Chair, Department of Christian Education, Antiochian Archdiocese

CONNECTING US TO JESUS CHRIST

“When I was young, I found a book about the Holy Land; the images of the holy sites fascinated me—Bethlehem, Golgotha, Cana—these were the places where Jesus walked and lived! He was real!”

Images of all sorts surround us today. If your children text, tweet, and Facebook, they live in a world of distraction—is Jesus even on their radar? Let’s get back to basics—our faith, and our life itself, rests in a person who lived 2,000 years ago and lives still. Buy posters for the church school and begin to surround your students with images that remind them of the reality of Jesus! “

ORTHODOX INSPIRATIONAL POSTER PROGRAM

The Department of Christian Education [of the Antiochian Archdiocese] plans to offer a few posters each summer for homes, classrooms, church hallways, and offices. A limited amount has been printed. They are available for a donation of $5, and come safely to you in a mailing tube. The smaller 5” x 7” photo prints will be sent in a cardboard mailing envelope for a donation of $2 each. These are ideal for personal use—framed for an icon corner, a bedside, for bookmarks, for gifts. When you pray, meditate upon the image and be drawn into the reality of Jesus.

For questions about this project, please contact the Department of Christian Education, aodce@aol.com.

Order form included in this Fall Newsletter packet.

TEACHER'S NOTEBOOKS ORGANIZING TEACHER HANDOUTS

How many years have you as a Director reprinted the same information? What a waste of your time and trees!

What about assigning each Grade a TEACHER'S NOTEBOOK containing those regularly reprinted handouts, i.e. feast day material, special saints, information on students' developmental stages, etc.

The CHURCH SCHOOL TEACHER'S NOTEBOOK guideline lists sections & subdivisions to make your job easier.

Included in the 2011 Fall Newsletter Packet.

55 MAXIMS FOR CHRISTIAN LIVING

Many emails come my way daily. I share this one with teachers of the teen classes. Consider using one of the maxims at the beginning of class to get your young people thinking and reflecting on the Christian way of life. Or, use them when there is time at the end of class. What a way to leave them thinking!

DO NOT MISS OUT!

Children to Children: Emergency Health & School Kits for IOCC

My favorite charity is IOCC. It is pan-Orthodox in support and helps people of all backgrounds throughout the world. While examining www.iocc.org I learned about the unbelievable amount of good work IOCC has done in the U.S. with the hurricane & tornado victims, in Japan after the tsunami, in Greece after the fires, in NYC after 9/11 and more.

92% of each dollar goes directly to aid! IOCC also partners with other organizations such as CWS – Church World Service – to distribute the emergency health & school kits.

Each year I encourage ordering IOCC Prayer Journals so our youth can learn charity and love of humanity. One cannot look at the pictures of the children from the countries where IOCC works and not be affected.

If we want a project to reinforce this, one of these two projects will do it.
